

The Ottawa Supportive Housing Network

Housing^{Plus} combines stable, affordable housing with on-site services that help people live stable and successful lives and be contributors to stronger and safer communities.

The Ottawa Supportive Housing Network is a coalition of ten non-profit housing agencies that are working to provide these services and reduce the pressure on other more costly social services, shelters and emergency health care.

Bruce House

Transitional housing for people living with HIV/AIDS who are homeless or at risk of homelessness and require various levels of support to maintain housing.

Cornerstone

Permanent supportive housing for women who are homeless or are at risk of homelessness and require support to maintain housing.

Daybreak

Rent-geared-to-income housing for low-income single adults who are homeless or are at risk of homelessness and require support to maintain housing.

Emily Murphy

Affordable housing and support services in a townhouse setting for single parents and their children. Support services include children's programming, housing support and parenting information.

Harmony House

Affordable, safe transitional housing for women and their children who are survivors of violence, providing housing for up to one year, along with a program of individual and group support, accompaniment, advocacy and referral.

Options Bytown

Permanent, affordable housing and support services for single adults with a history of homelessness, addictions or mental illness.

Ottawa Salus

Rehabilitation services, community support services, recreation and housing to men and women, 16 years of age or older, with mental health problems. Salus services are available in English, French and ASL.

Shepherds of Good Hope

Affordable housing for single adults with ongoing mental health problems, who are at risk of homelessness.

Youth Services Bureau of Ottawa

Affordable housing apartments for single youth aged 16 to 21 who are homeless, at risk of homelessness or are unsuitably housed. Supports focus on life skills, safety planning, crisis and short-term counselling.

Youville Centre

An innovative centre that provides motivation, education and nurturing to young teen mothers (up to age 21) and their children. Services include high-school education, early child development and care, student support and supportive housing.

Contact information and web links for these organizations are available at:

www.HousingPlus.ca